Who is Angelo?

Angelo came to this country in the late 1930's, settling in New York. He has worked a lifetime making great pizza, first at pizza shops around the city and then at his own store, Pizza Chef, on Brooklyn's Fulton Street. As time passed, Angelo lamented that there were only a handful of places left like his that made what he calls real pizza. "The crust has to be blackened and crisp! Only fresh mozzarella and tomatoes...!" he often pleaded. This genuine passion for pizzad has passed on to the family's next generations, as his children and nephewing continue his tradition of excellent pizza making.

Mexican food AND be health conscious! where you can enjoy great

"Unlike you run-of-the-mill Mexican Food, usually greasy, full of cholesterol and over spiced, Classic cuisine is healthier and jumbo sized. The chefs are Mexican, so they know the taste by instinct. All the ingredients are freshly made each day; crying chefs chop tons of onlons and avocados and create dished by hand."

NEW YORK TIMES

"Classic Burrito's fame is serving the full size, twelve inch flour or whole wheat Quesadillas. A novel idea, they are light wafers, even when loaded with spinach or crammed with tomatoes and tangy shrimp."

VILLAGE VOICE

"But it's the Burritos that are worth writing about: eight different variet-ies, each a meal in itself, wrapped up to full dinner size."

OURTOWN

"Classic Burrito serves healthy mixture of vegetarian Burritos and cheese and low fat dairy FOX TV NEWS AT TEN cheese for health conscious, maintaining taste and flavour.

"This newish midtown Mexican with Blade Runner decor leans heavily on blimp-size San Francisco burritos." 1996 ZAGAT NEW YORK RESTAURANT SURVEY
